

Terms and conditions - King's Scholars of Tomorrow Scholarship 2025

Scholarship Details

The King's Scholars of Tomorrow is a scholarship award of £5,000 per recipient which can be awarded to up to four students, one from each pathway. Applicants must have applied for the King's International Programme at the time of applying for the scholarship. Scholarships will only be awarded to applicants who hold an offer to study on a King's International Foundation Programme, commencing in autumn 2025 – August for those on the extended programme and September for all other students – at the time of judging.

The prize of £5,000 is given toward the tuition fee of the International Foundation Programme at King's. No cash alternative is offered. If a student does not enrol on the Foundation programme the prize is withdrawn. The scholarship is only available to students on a King's International Foundation Programme and is not transferable to any other programme of study at King's College London.

Scholarship recipients will also be required to:

- Provide one written and one video testimonial about their time studying on King's International Foundation Programme (once enrolled).

Am I eligible for the King's Scholars of Tomorrow Scholarship?

To be eligible* to apply for the King's Scholars of Tomorrow Scholarship, you must:

- Have submitted a completed application to your chosen King's International Foundation Programme for autumn 2025 entry.
- Be legally allowed to study in the United Kingdom (i.e. not restricted from entering the UK or from applying for a study visa).
- Hold an offer to study on a King's International Foundation Programme by the time the scholarship applications are reviewed.
- Meet the entry requirements for your chosen King's International Foundation Programme.
- Sign a filming and photography consent form to participate in promotional videos and photos.

*Please note that being eligible does not mean an automatic entitlement to a scholarship, as final selection by committee is based upon your video submission.
