Campus Based Teaching

Campus based teaching is arranged through our Teacher Availability Form on our database and occasionally on an ad-hoc basis, paid per hour, with time for preparation and reflection added (typically an hour). We prioritise teachers who are part of our established teaching network (e.g., those that take students in practice) and those with educational experience and qualifications.

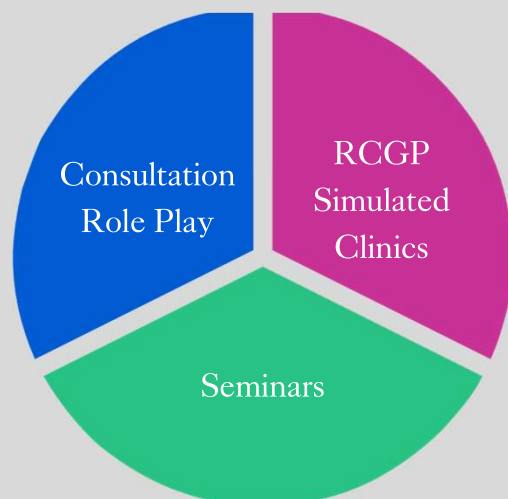

Campus based teaching is small group teaching with 4-10 students. We encourage a facilitative style of teaching, encouraging students to debate and find answers to their own questions. Resources, briefings and training are provided for campus-based teaching sessions.

£70/hr
£560/day

Other non-paid opportunities such as MBBS interviewing, and paid opportunities via the medical school (separate rate) including OSCE examining, communication skills and Interprofessional Education (IPE) teaching

Other practice-based opportunities include the iBSc in Primary care, QIPs, Career Development Period (CDP) and Elective for Stage 3 students together.
